Born in the heart of London, our first Bread Street Kitchen opened in 2011 within the iconic One New Change, just moments from St Paul's Cathedral. Created by Gordon Ramsay, the concept was designed to break away from traditional fine dining—bringing people together in a vibrant, relaxed setting where great food can be enjoyed from morning through to late evening.

Today, Bread Street Kitchen is defined by its energetic atmosphere, open kitchens, and a menu that celebrates classic British and European flavours with a modern edge. Rooted in quality, consistency and approachable hospitality, the brand delivers an all-day dining experience that feels both familiar and exciting. Discover our seasonal dishes alongside signature favourites like the Bread Street Burger and our iconic Beef Wellington, as well as comforting mains and indulgent desserts—perfect for any time of day.
